

Engine Management Systems

By Russell Flack

Well I have taken the plunge and purchased a WOLF 3D engine management system for my 20 valve. I am quite impressed by the build quality of the unit and the extent of components that come with it. The ECU is supplied complete with wiring loom, relay, injector plugs, engine and air temp sensors and an "on dash" backlit LCD display that provides a real time readout of all engine and ECU parameters.

The unit provides PIN number security to prevent the car being started by unauthorised persons ie kids, mother in laws and thieves. The system comes complete with a comprehensive installation and tuning manual.

The real test will be, does it work! Stay tuned for updates on my exploits with the WOLF 3D.
